Executives Cite Boost In Demand

'New Life' Result Of Hike In Orders From Small Firms

PITTSBURGH (AP) - An increase in the demand for steel has led executives to believe prospects may be looking up in the steel industry.

Although the increase is smalland although one deterrent to a major surge exists-steel chiefs view the upturn with optimism. "The sky is a little brighter now than it was at the beginning of the year," Logan T. Johnston, president of Armco Steel Corp.

Recent increases indicate "a modestly improved tone in broad sectors of the steel market," says Roger M. Blough, board chairman of U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's largest steel producer. Avery C. Adams, chairman of lones & Laughlin Steel Corp., believes his company's low point may be in store before the middle of the year. The new life in the industry is the result of increased orders from smaller customers. These orders serve as evidence that they have depleted inventories.

The big deterrent to a major surge is lagging orders from the auto industry, a giant consumer of steel. Nothing favorable is in sight from this area. Production remains relatively ow, but it is better than anytime since last year.

The basic steel industry poured 1,580,000 net tons last week, a drop from the 1,582,000 tons of the two previous weeks. But those two weeks were the best this year.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen

Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Too Early For DIED To Die

the Ohio House is nearing the windup of a series of hearings on a bill to abolish the Department of Industrial and Economic De-

The measure would re-establish the old Ohio Economic Development and Publicity Division of the Department of Commerce. Its sponsors offer two basic arguments in favor of the proposal:

1. Publicity is the only justifiable function of the department, and the old division could handle publicity much more cheaply.

2. Many local and area development groups have been working for years on other aspects of industrial growth, and the department should not be allowed to interfere with those

In their arguments before the committee, however, proponents of abolition of the department have:

1. Based most of their criticism of the department on its publicity functions, which seems to be inconsistent with their premise. 2. Failed to show that the department is ment groups. In fact, the department's defenders emphasize the state agency is intended to promote the economic interests of all Ohio by helping and coordinating the work of the local groups.

interfering with the work of local develop-

THE DEFENDERS also argue that there is a great deal more to economic growth than mere advertising. They cite research, compilation of vast amounts of information vital to corporate decisions to move or expand, effective planning for the state as a whole and its subdivisions, the availability of a cabinetlevel agency as a contact point for interests both inside and outside the state.

There is validity to the argument that in these phases the department has not had enough time to prove its worth. Authorized by the 1959 session of the General Assembly at the request of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. the new agency has been in existence only

Most of that time has been spent in organizing the department and building up the background of information it needs to do

The government Operations Committee of the job assigned to it. Whether, from this point, it can begin to show tangible results is a question to be decided in the future.

There is no argument that industrial development is highly competitive. There is no questioning the fact that rival states have been spending more money and working harder than Ohio.

Consequently, a decision to abolish the department at this time would be premature. If, in th next couple of years, the department proves that it can meet and win the competition with other states, the money spent on it will be viewed as a wise invest-

If, on the other hand, no tangible evidence exists that the department is accomplishing that purpose, it will be time to reduce its status to that of the old division.

IN VIEW of the economic crossroads at which Ohio now stands, it would be better to postpone the decision on the department's fate at least until the General Assembly's 1963 regular session. It would be foolish to kill it off now, then decide in a few years it should be revived.

In the meantime, the cost factor can be handled adequately by taking a close look at the department's budget request for the next

As with most government agencies, the department's money probably can be pared without seriously hampering its ability to show whether it should survive.

Gestures With A Borrowed Gun

Again it is reported from the Congo that if unruly Congolese soldiers do thus and so the United Nations will use force.

Its show of force in the defense of a port known as Matadi, which it needed for bringing in supplies from abroad, led to a thumping defeat when an outnumbered Sudanese garrison was forced to throw in the towel.

In the Congo in general, if a show of force by U.N. troops created enough alarm and resentment, there could be a massacre. The United Nations does not have enough force in being to back up a policy of using force.

The force it has moreover, is not its own. It can be withdrawn at will by the governments that have loaned it to the United Nations. The United Nations is making gestures with a borrowed gun. This is not to detract from its vital role as the only potential stabilizer of international chaos but to say what too often is left unsaid:

When force is used to offset force, the result is war, not peace. The United Nations is on the verge of going to war in the Congo, in the name of peace.

Hang On To The Ducking Stool!

Reliable word from Harrisburg, Pa., says the new attorney general of the Keystone State Anne X. Alpern, has taken a strong stand against the ducking stool for women convicted on the charge of being common scolds. We think Miss Alpern should reconsider and declare in favor of this interesting form of punishment, instead.

It is a stool secured to the end of a pole, with a fulcrum that makes it possible to dip the stool into a pool of water and hold it there for any given length of time. The occupant of the stool thus can be given a deliberate ducking and lifted out just in time to avert drowning. It was severe punishment for a severe offense when it was used in pioneer days.

Atty. Gen. Alpern is against it on the grounds it is cruel and unusual punishment for a woman and should not be tolerated be-

Victor Riesel into the mountains to shoot down our underground rebel allies.

All this made a most politically immoral triangle. Peiping China got American dollars which Mao Tse-tung needs badly. The Cubans got new trucks which the Fidelistas need badly.

We supplied the dollar exchange sters, vegetables and fruits.

For such produce, all of which could have been purchased inside the U.S.A., Castro-'s Communistoperated government has been, and still is, receiving some 60 to 80 million dollars a year.

SO DESPERATE is Havana's need for this hard dollar exchange, according to the State Department, that a slash of half the U.S. purchases in Cuba could throttle much of Castro's economy.

Our government could do just that by placing Cuba under the Trading With The Enemy Act.

Apparently Fidel is not yet technically the enemy. Maybe not to the State Department but to the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) he is. So they have refused to adjust cargo hoses from ships arriving in New York laden with Cuban molasses in bulk If those hoses are not attached to dockside tanks, the ships can't pour out the molasses. However, most of the imports have been coming in by railroadcar sea ferries running overnight from Havana to West Palm Beach. These ferries, manned by Castro crews, have been leased from the West Indian Fruit and Steamship

When I reported this some months ago, the longshoremen began picketing the West Palm Beach docks. In mid-February, there were 18 ILA men parading in front of the unloading facilities.

AS THE BOYS SAY, they had to knock it off. Why? Because Judge I. M. Morrow, a Flordia state jurist, issued an injunction on Feb. 16. He ordered the ILA to desist from picketing the Cuban cargo. So the boys went home. "Now tons of the stuff," said

ILA general organizer, Teddy Gleason, "is coming in. This is tomatoes and foodstuff competing with Florida farmers and U.S. citizens along the East Coast.

"One of those overnight ferries carries anywhere from 1,000 to 2,000, maybe 10,000 tons a week. "If these ferries run full up, from $100-$150 million worth of Cuban stuff a year. Who's going to stop them now? "When we had our pickets, the over-the-road truck drivers were respecting us. Now we have the courts hitting us when we were stopping cargo from being rur in a government tied up with Moscow and Peiping. Sounds screwy but it's true."

There have been no injunctions in other ports. On Pier 34, Hudson River, New York Marbor, was elected vice chairman of the der shoots like asparagus.

of Cuban tobacco has been lying worth of their merchandise into the U.S. through the only wideopen door-the Port of West Palm Beach-a door held ajar by an injunction.

P.S.: On Feb. 1, two Cuban

Communist agents, Alvarez De la Campa and Faustino Calvinet, arrived in East Berlin for an important meeting. They were the Cuban "labor" representatives to the executive committee meeting of the Soviet-operated World Federation of Trade Unions (WFTU).

When the U2 was forced down last May over Russian territory, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee rushed into a public inquiry. This made headlines for several days and the Russian press exploited the hearing and got considerable comfort out of it.

The committee's objective, of course, was merely to discredit the Republican administration. Now the Senate Foreign Relations committee - is dominated by Democratic administration. So no such investigation of what happened is being ordered. Nor is there to be any formal report apparently on the failure of the State Department to pursue its protests.

There was justification perhaps for silence during the period that the two surviving American airmen were in jail. Negotiations for their release were successfully undertaken by the Kennedy administration after such efforts were rebuffed during the previous months

When the fliers were returned to the United States, a curious set of developments occurred. First, the fliers were met at the airport by the President himself and told to keep mum for the time being about what had hap-

They were forbidden to talk to the press. Then, after a lapse of a month, they were allowed to be interviewed but only a limited amount of information has been revealed

THE ESSENTIAL point disclosed, however, is that the plane was over the Barents Sea at least 50 miles from the Soviet coast. This confirms that the American fliers were attacked while traveling on the high seas. Although American rights were ness. plainly transgressed, the impresadministration even made some the Kennedy administration's atconcessions to obtain the release titude is toward the loss of Ameri-

to be at peace. If the cold war means that the rules of hot war are to be applied, then the United States and other Western countries are missing a bet in allowing Russia's trawlers to "fish" in waters so close to American submarine bases here and abroad.

A SOVIET fishing vessel approached New London, Conn., when one of the latest American submarines was launched last year. When the new submarine tender from the United States was arriving at a port in Scotland last week, a Russian trawler was in the same vicinity taking pictures. Would the Americans have had the right to fire on the trawler? Under the current concept in Moscow, any vessel engaged in military observation can be attacked without warning and destroyed, no matter where it is on the ocean.

There were four other airmen aboard the ill-fated American plane. The body of one has been recovered but what happened to the other three? The American government says it doesn't know, and the Russians also profess not

The principle is clear-the Russians are responsible for the loss of four American airmen

Will the administration insist upon redress? Will it ask for clarification of the issues involved, so that further incidents may be avoided? Or will the hush-hush policy that began recently be continued, in the hope presumably of avoiding any sharp talk with the Soviets on any subject whatsoever? If so, then the theory will gain ground that appeasement is a better way to run foreign relations than with firmness and resolute-

A friend who recently moved to Houston, Texas, reports he has met only one Texan so far. All the others are outsiders like him -people who recently moved to Houston, Texas, which he predicts will be the nation's largest city by 1980.

Something that never fails to impress me is how the great gosh almighty good kind government can keep track of a couple of bucks I owe it but can let that internationally famous Swiss (formerly Swedish) boxfighter Johansson hook it for a claimed half-million dollars plus in taxes.

One thing you have to admit about the Jackie look in women's fashion: If the women don't look like Jackie, the Jackie look makes them look exactly like themselves with their hair fixed funny and their clothes up-and-downish. A possible reason for Richard

M. Nixon's decision not to run for governor of California is that state's soaring unemployment total-up to 8 per cent in January, with no hope in sight unless the United States declares war, because California has let itself grow lopsided in national defense con-

Ford Motor Co.'s annual report has been bugged by "The Untouchables," sometimes known as 'The Italian Hour.'

I like to ask my bushy-tailed friends who are hell-bent on getting the federal government into they would point to as its greatest success. When it ran the railroads that time? Farm subsidies? The time it flew the U.S. mail? Civil defense? Or I let them designate their own federal triumph Newspaper offices continue to have trouble with first-robin reports, though it is common knowledge, as the Russians would say, that some robins spend the winter in this climate and therefore a "first robin" may be seen anytime, if the would-be viewer looks in the right place.

If I were the age for it, I'd have a go at the Kennedy peace corps, what with unemployment being what it is and all-and what with there never having been a better way to see part of the world at government expense,

I have become interested in the problem I must cope with each night at bedtime, in connection with winding and setting the alarm clock. (We use a windup clock in case electricity fails.) The problem is being unable to remember when I get into bed whether I wound the clock and released the alarm. Yet, on a recent night when I forgot to release the alarm, though I had wound the clock. I woke up the same time as if the clock had gone off, perhaps because the almost imperceptible noise that precedes the ringing of the bell was enough in itself to do the trick.

Loyola Added, 7 Vacancies Left In NCAA

By DON WEISS

Associated Press Sports Writer Loyola of Los Angeles, newly crowned champ of the West Coast Athletic Conference, has made it to the National Collegiate basketball championships for first time, leaving the NCAA with seven vacancies for its far-flung 24-team tournament opening next Tues-

Loyola, 19-6 this season, clinched the WCAC title Tuesday night with an 82-64 victory over Pepperdine that really wasn't needed. A few minutes before, Santa Clara had spilled San Francisco 51-39, eliminating the only team left with a chance to catch Lovola.

The Lions from Loyola, represenatatives of a conference that sent the San Francisco Dons on to back-to-back NCAA titles with All-America Bill Russell in 1955 and 1956, will play the Skyline Conference champs in their first tournament game in the Far West regional at Portland, Ore., March The Skyline berth will be decided Saturday night in a playoff at Provo, Utah, between cochamps Utah and Colorado State.

That's the play-off where even the loser wins. While the winner goes to the NCAA, the loser goes to the National Invitation Tournament, which completed its 12team lineup Tuesday with the addition of St. Louis, No. 3 team in the Missouri Valley Conference.

Ed Bento, Loyola's ace, scored 27 points in the Lions' wrap-up victory Tuesday night, the first undisputed WCAC championship for the Los Angeles school. Loyola tied with Santa Clara for the conference title last year but los

Filling of the WCAC berth left four conference berths and three at-large vacancies in the NCAA lineup. Lochmueller Chosen WVU Cage Assistant MORGANTOWN (A) - Coach George King today named 33-yearold Bob Lockmueller - an old roommate from pro basketball day - to be his assistant at West Virginia.

Lochmueller and King played together on the Syracuse Nats of the National Basketball Association. Lochmueller, 6-51/2, 210 - pounder from Elberfeld, Ind., is the answer to King's search for a man to coach WVU centers.

Lochmueller has coached high school ball in Indiana for the past eight seasons, compiling a record of 142 victories and 54 losses. He spend the last four years as coach at Seymour, Ind., where he, his wife and their two children re-

Howe Sets Record, Wings In Playoffs

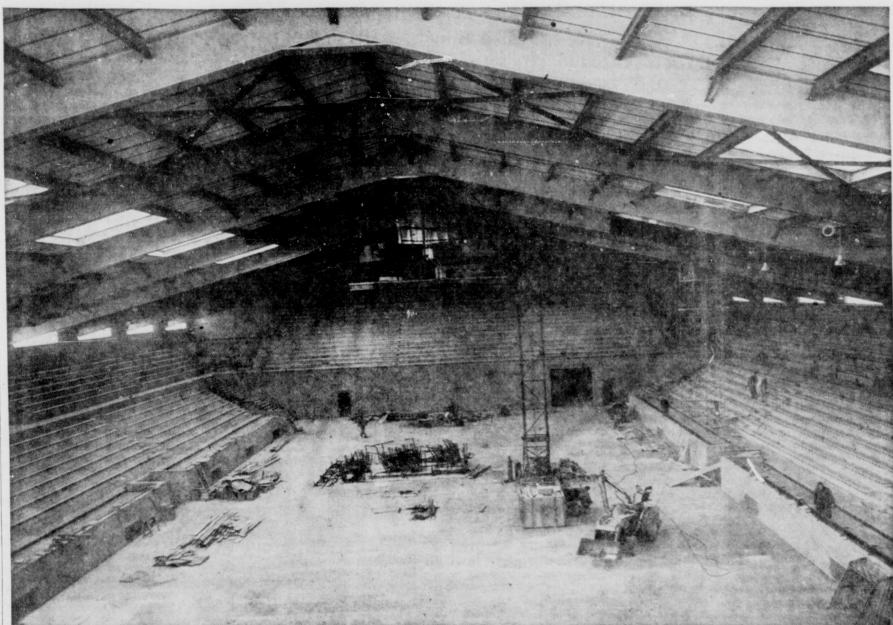

DETROIT (AP)-Gordie Howe, the Detroit Red Wings' super star, holds another record today and the Wings have virtually clinched a National Hockey League playoff berth.

Howe set up two goals Tuesday night to tie the Wings' record for consecutive game scoring. Detroit beat the Boston Bruins 3-1 and moved 10 points ahead of fifthplace New York in the NHL race. It was the only game Tuesday night. Howe, already 12 times the highest point-scorer in the NHL, scored two assists and extended his streak of at least one point a game to 14 straight. He tied the record set earlier this season by teammate Norm Ullman.

80 head of Registered cows — a few heifers and about 20 out standing grades. Several of the grades have records up to 580 lbs. There are 5 very good cows in the sale: One with 17,438 milk, 656 fat with a 3.61% test — another with 16,213 milk, 641 fat with a 3.68% test.

A daughter of Pabst Roamer Admiral that produced 14,341 milk, 517 fat with a 3.68% test as a 2 year old, and came back as a 3 year old and produced 20,602 milk, 758 fat with a 3.68% test. Also a daughter of Hartholm Marchless Dewdrop that produced 17,828 milk, 684 fat with a 3.84% test as a 2 year old. Many more of these cows have over 600 fat. In fact this is one of the very best 100 cows we have ever assembled for sale. Many of the cows are classified and many have good production records.
